COMMENT. Afterpiece: noise still (Cross). [See 6 Nov.] Mainpiece: It appears that Mr Garrick is solicitous to banish vice from the theatre, by his having omitted to exhibit that scandalous piece the London Cuckolds on the evening of the Lord Mayor's Day [9 Nov.] contrary to immemorial custom, and the practice of other houses. He has also made a vigorous attempt to exclude folly but the frequency of folly appeared to be so numerous, that he could not effect his purpose (Gentleman's Magazine, Nov. 1752, p. 535). Receipts: £100 (Cross).

COMMENT. Noise, & some fighting in y^e pit Mr Woodward when present tainment was over each Night gave it out again, which the opposite Party upon as Impudent—y^e Inspector wrote against it—the fool, against the Woman, as Indecent, & this Night whatever passages he had marked hiss'd by two or 3 people (Cross). [The Inspector edited by Dr John Hill, Receipts: £100 (Cross).
